Hill Debate Club In Two Tests FridayEastern Carded Here; Murray Billed Away

Western Teachers College Congress Debate Club will have two debate teams in action tomorrow night. One team is to be host to Eastern while the other aggregation journeys to Murray for an engagement with the Teachers College there.

Subject for each debate will be, Resolved that: "The National Labor Relations Board Should Be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration of All Industrial Disputes."

John Welch and Elbert Taggart, slated to do the speaking for Western, will uphold the affirmative side of the issue against Eastern. The contest is billed for 7:30 in Snell Hall. The teams were to have met a week ago but Eastern was unable to fill the engagement.

Alvis Trigg and Ray Logan are to represent Western against Murray. Trigg and Logan will talk for the negative side of the subject. Probable judges will be Barkus Grey of the Bowling Green City school system; Dr. K. B. Haas, instructor in the Bowling Green College of Commerce; and J. T. Orendorf, city prosecuting attorney.

All faculty members are invited to attend.

Dancing will get under way at 9 o'clock and close at 1 o'clock. Roy Holmes and his orchestra is to furnish the music.

Looks like the Arts and Crafts Club had a big time sending their new members through the initiative feats. The new members can be seen around the campus with their broom tags—

Falryst! Falryst! Tommy Zorette and Jimmy Glover have decided to sprout wings for the incoming spring season. Nice work boys, but squinting is better than peeping.

The Scottsville beauty has plenty of Irish in her. Miss Napier loves green Chryslers.

News! J. W. Hardin ran out of wine last week-end so Mr. Hardin decided to observe some knowledge instead.

Here's News! Paul Smith-Caroline Johnson affair starting anew this spring. Look out Paul—triangular affairs are bad luck—Tennis, acting, courting.

Speaking of old romances renewed—Jed Walter-Miller affair seems to be going strong.

Flash! College Senior makes future date with high school senior for Senior Day Program. "Stud" Jones has decided to insure himself with future dates.

We understand "Junior" Atteberry has been neglected lately—

Speed King To Type At B. U. This Afternoon

George L. Hossfield of New Jersey, world's champion typist, is to give a demonstration at 2:35 o'clock this afternoon in the main auditorium at the Bowling Green Business University.

Mr. Hossfield, ten times winner of the international championship, is present champion as the result of winning the International Type-writing contest at the Canadian Exhibition last August, when he established a new speed record of an average of 139 words per minute in a one hour test.

Keats Is Topic For Western's Radio Program

Western's radio program over station WHAS Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock was devoted to the life and works of John Keats. Readings from the poetry of Keats were given by Dr. Earl A. Moore and J. Reid Sterrett. A dramatization of one important incident in the life of Keats, the singing of Keats' lyrics, set to music by Kurt Schindler, and a talk by George W. Little rounded out the program. Mr. Little talked on the experiences of the poet's brother, George Keats, who lived in Kentucky. His part of the program was originated in the Louisville studio. Students who participated in the program were Paul Smith, Louisville; Zack Hill, Paducah; Gilbert Scarbrough, Lenoir City, Tenn.; and Virginia Strohlman, Louisville.

Terry In Line For Head Grid Coach Job At Western

From all appearances and what information that can be gathered, W. L. (Gander) Terry will be head football coach at Western next fall with E. B. Stansbury as his assistant. Although there has been no definite announcement concerning the setup in the athletic department, the above guess is as good as any. If these fellows do inherit the football responsibility for 1938, they will also inherit quite a sizable schedule along with it. Vandy, Western Michigan, Howard, Murray, Kansas State Teachers, Tampa, Tennessee Poly, Eastern and possibly one or two more pretty fair opponents. The "Toppers" are showing plenty of spirit in spring drills despite injuries to two or three performers, and it wouldn't be surprising in the least if Western turns up with a pretty good grid machine next fall. Willard Day and Eck Branham, Hilltopper backfield aces are assisting Coaches Terry and Stansbury in the spring practice session.

Spring Term At B. U. Opens

The spring term of nine weeks opened Monday at the Bowling Green Business University. Students registered Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week with no interruption in classes, and all classes met Monday as usual. The spring term affects only students in the Business University taking subjects carrying non-college credit. Students in the College of Commerce receive credit on a basis of eighteen weeks' work, beginning in January.

Miss Mae Henderson and Mrs. John Harris reclassified the students in the secretarial department. W. S. Fuqua was in charge of the reclassification in the bookkeeping department.

Western Nine Holds Opening Drill MondayIncomplete Card Shows Ten Contests

Although not taking the form of a regular practice session, a number of Hilltopper diamond candidates were assembled Monday afternoon on the Western baseball field, and in addition to knocking out a few, the boys aided in preparing the diamond for the spring sport.

Even though the diamond sport is considered the national pastime by countless millions, Hilltopper students and others connected with the school never seem to consider it seriously, and as yet no complete schedule has been arranged for the Western nine.

Nine games have been definitely scheduled, with several others hanging fire. Among the opponents that are nearly certain to be met by the Diddle aggregation are Vanderbilt, Eastern, University of Louisville, and Tennessee Poly. Western baseball rivals of long standing.

Four tilts have been booked with the Vandy team, while Eastern and Louisville will furnish opposition in two, and Tennessee Poly in one.

Northern Illinois Teachers of DeKolb have been tentatively book-

Western Mound Grad On Professional Nine Billed To Play Here

When the Indianapolis Indians and the Toledo Mud Hens tangle at the fairgrounds here on April 13, Nile Newton, who last year toiled on the mound for Mr. Diddle, will be among them. Newton signed a contract with Indianapolis two months ago, and according to reports has been making a most favorable impression at the Florida training camp. Last summer Newton visited Perry Stadium in Indianapolis and worked out every day for a week with the team. Heinie Groh, scout for the New York Giants, told the writer at that time that he believed Newton was a real diamond in the rough.

Around 'N About

By "EDDIE"

Well, well, it looks like we have a new "Eddie" this week—We wonder who it will be next?

What is this case we hear about and see to beat it all with Bobby Briggs and Jane Eakins. Carrying Jane up Aubrey Mae's steps and picking the finger nail polish off her nails. Getting good aren't you Bobby? To bad she hasn't got dandruff!

Well, well, it looks like we have a new comer (Walter Roper). What is the matter Walter, won't Morgan introduce you. Is he saving you for a rainy day? Welcome anyway!

It seems as if the dance Friday night was O.K. We are wondering which side Mitchell sat on. Was it the right side Morgan? How long did Aubrey Mae have to sit up and wait for Jane after she got home?

Blow me down! What is Martha Haley running around to Joe Covington's for? Could it be because Red and Joe are in the same class?

It was hand in hand 'till Dorothy Romer and Dick Neff split up, but Duggie Ruckman rushed in and took her place Saturday night. Parrish it's your turn now!

If it isn't one it's another. If Charles Morgan can't get one he tries another—it is Frances Briscoe now. What is the matter Charles, can't you hold Clair or is it some guy down at high school that is in the way?

It looks like our seniors are running out at night again. We are wondering who James McGown and Fredric Nahm took to the weiner roast Friday night. We know that they were pretty good friends.

It sure was a shock when Joe Covington broke down and asked Jane Friedman to go with him to his dance. We are wondering if it was all Joe's idea?

Lester Stevens is going to rob our school again. She is a ninth grader—no not Martha Haley—but none other than Marion Raymond. Good luck Marion.

We are wondering what is wrong with Paul Garrett? He shouldn't be worrying for he got along O.K. with Duggie Friday night. Saturday night might be what is wrong.

Warren Howard is still swinging around. He doesn't know which side to land on—Sue Conway's or Caroline Whittemer's. We hope he decides soon and lands one (the right one).

Well, well, have you noticed the bug Bobby Briggs is wearing? We are wondering if it is the "Love Bug?" Jane would you know?

We are wondering what is wrong with George Anne Moseley and Red Rabold? Could it be notes written by Jane Eakins to George Anne? We hope it isn't true.

We are wondering how the race is going to come out? Don't misunderstand me—I mean human race. The one between Charles and Mary Jane Morgan. Shine kiddies we are waiting for the score. Walter watch out—you'll fall into the "bear trap!"

It seems that last Saturday night when Red Rabold thought that Paul and Dorothy were breaking up he told George Anne Moseley off so he would be first-hand with Dorothy. But—Now that Paul and Dorothy haven't broken up he has gone back to George Anne. Should she take him?

See you next week, but until then stack up on gossip.

Western Music Faculty Group Attending Meet

Dr. R. D. Perry, Chester Channon, John Vincent and Miss Clara Elledge, all members of the Western Teachers College music department faculty, left Tuesday noon for St. Louis, Mo., to attend the twenty-fifth meeting of the Music Educators National Conference, which opened Sunday and is to continue through Friday.

The centennial of music teaching in the schools of America will be celebrated as part of the meeting.

In addition to the educators, musicians and citizens who will attend and contribute to the meeting, over 10,000 elementary, high school, college and university students from all parts of the country will participate in the meeting in concerts, demonstrations and music clinics. Among the topics under discussion will be: music in social life, music education in churches, creative music, music theory in high schools, vocal and instrumental music in elementary schools, experimental projects in music education, college and university bands, orchestras and choirs, Catholic music, teacher education, music education broadcasts, music education by radio, class piano instruction, junior and senior high school choruses, orchestras and bands, music appreciation, rural school music, senior high school voice training, co-ordination and integration of music in the school curriculum, etc.

Two All-State Basketeers May Play For Western

Among the distinguished guests at the Western "W" Club dance Friday night at the Western gym were none other than James King, Durward (Red) Culp and Albert Brooks—maybe you can't place the names—just in case you haven't looked at a newspaper in the past week or so, these boys were three of the performers on Coach Homer Holland's Sharpe High school state championship basketball five...and guess who was introducing the boys to every one who came in the door at the gym Friday night?...Right, it was none other than Coach Ed Diddle, and maybe you think he wasn't trying to persuade those boys to choose Western for their matriculation in September...The Sharpe performers accompanied by Conn Barnette, former agriculture major at Western, now an instructor at Sharpe, arrived here Friday night and Coach Diddle immediately went to their hotel and dragged them out of bed, bringing them to the social function, where he made sort of a receiving line out of the group. Saturday was spent with the boys touring the Western campus...Possibly you may recall that King and Culp both earned places on the all-state honor team, Culp being individual high scorer of the tournament with 52 points, while King registered 45 for runner-up honors. Brooks, although not placing on the honor team, played commendable ball throughout the affair at Lexington.

Accepts Position

Miss Ina Ree Whallen of Rich-ardsville, college secretarial student at the Bowling Green College of Commerce of the Bowling Green Business University, left yesterday for Louisville to accept a stenographic position in the State Board of Health offices there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whallen.

Members of the All-State Club will meet Monday night at the Business University to discuss plans for a social event.

Classy Netman Leaves Western

Western has lost one of the classiest ball handlers ever to perform on the local floor in Kendrick Fulk of Munfordville, a freshman who withdrew from school a couple of weeks ago...There is a slight possibility that the Hart county lad may enroll again in April, but the Hilltopper coaches are not counting on him in their 1939 setup. Fulk with Carlyle Towery, rangy yearling center, formed one of the best scoring machines ever to perform on the Western court.

"THRU THE KEYHOLE"

By PEEPIN

By Peepin

Well Seniors, everybody get ready for those one hundred and twenty-five chemistry problems due May 9. To the Juniors—don't let anyone kid you about those Senior privileges—'cause there isn't any such things.

Too Late to Classify—Having been duly reminded by Mrs. Webb of the public speaking dinner given at the Helm, I will now try to give them that much wanted and long neglected write up. Miss Womack also states she was slighted on the girls basketball games—It seems that they were not written up either.

A certain senior girl had quite a bit of difficulty trying to talk last Friday. "Foxy" we thought you knew better than that.

Warren Bledsoe—the bashful little Sophomore—has turned over a new leaf and is now going for the girls in a big way. We think a few more of our boys needs to put forth an effort of courage along this line 'cause it's really "nice work, if you can get it."

Harvey Sagland seems to think there was a slight mistake in last week's column. The wrong girl and the wrong night. Instead of being with Virginia Briggs he was with Elizabeth. Charles Smith also states that his time was not beaten with Virginia. Due to this complication both the Briggs girls rate a write-up this week.

Having just glanced at the calendar, much to my surprise I see tomorrow is April the First, which means quite a bit to the Seniors. They are sponsoring a program which is looked forward to by all.

Peepin has been reminded that Irvin Bewely is losing his technique with Lucille Cafflin and that Thomas Campbell is taking his place fast. How about this Irvin?

Franklin Wade is placing all his attention on a certain B.U. dame from Florida who happens to be none other than "Billy" Hall And what about the pitching woo on the front porch Franklin, don't you know you might be seen? Another high school boy who was very interested in finding out the real name of the Florida girl is Robert Boyd. Are you making any progress Robert, or is Franklin too far ahead in the race?

What attraction is so great at the end of Smallhouse pike to draw such spectators as Emma Frances Shanks and Bobby Quinn, also Josephine Wand and Mac Cobb. 'Tis rumored that they were having a swell time, so some of you other love-sick couples might drive out.

Dorothy Smith wears a ring from College Hi. Now who is the lucky lad that is possessor? Give us all a break and tell us Dorothy.

Dorothy Murphy seems to be having quite a bit of trouble nowadays. George Jungerman—the use to be one and only—was in town this week-end and as you know Dorothy is at the present time deeply in love with J. S. Cole, much to the surprise of George.

Seems that Jack Russell has reformed. He thinks no one in high school is in his class. We wonder Jack if this feeling is because all the girls are now giving you the go by, or is there some other reason?

If you have noticed that bright and happy look on the face of Delmar McNally it's because March 28 has finally arrived and she can once more go out—that is until she stays out too late again! How's the navy coming Delmar?

What girl is so popular that she can have a date with a boy, and then he writes her a letter as soon as he gets home. We think the girl is Rosemary Love, and the boy is one of her Scottsville attractions.

L. C. Curry Talks On 'Traffic Safety'

City School Superintendent L. C. Curry spoke on the subject, "Traffic Safety," at Bowling Green Junior-Senior High school chapel exercises yesterday morning in high school auditorium.

Mr. Curry outlined plans for Traffic Safety Week, which is to open in Bowling Green Sunday and continue throughout next week.

Mr. Mussolini Minus Uniform

Much less formidable than usual, and certainly with a less belligerent tilt to his jaw, Benito Mussolini is pictured above in one of his rare photos in civilian clothes. The Italian dictator nearly always wears uniforms, and never permits photographers except from angles of which he approves. The above picture was taken at Guidonia, model city near Rome.

Mrs. Von Boyer and Miss Grace Corder, Western students, are to spend the week-end at their homes in Stearns.

"Cradle Song", Guild's Final Production, Is Acclaimed As Best Offered By Players

"Cradle Song," presented by the Players Guild Monday night at Van Meter hall, eclipsed all previous productions of that organization. The play itself was by far the most appealing, and of such a nature as to reach every member of the audience, regardless of creed.

Credit goes wholeheartedly to every department in the guild, in addition to the splendid cast.

Eighteen years elapse between the first and second acts . . . during which time, the make-up department very successfully rubbed the bloom from the cheeks of the young novices, and sent them out again, mature, and resigned. Superb lighting and scenic effects by Freddie Burnette and Leroy Elrod. To the rest of the unseen and unsung crew, who worked diligently on stage properties, ticket selling, posters, costumes, musical effects, publicity, and the myriad details attendant to the success of such a production, a vote of thanks.

It is difficult indeed to choose the star of the production, as each player worked in such harmonious unison as to make the whole a blend of beauty, comedy and pathos. Outstanding were Reverend Dr. Coleman Groves, as the doctor; Miss Mary Francis Finney as the prioress; Mrs. W. J. Craig as Mistress of Novices, and Miss Mariemne Rowlinson as the oldest resident. Mrs. Daisy Pearce Stirn was very lovely as the young girl left as a founding who grows to young womanhood in the religious institution, and is released to the world and her lover, Antonio. (James S. Drennan) because "God did not intend for her to become a religious." Mrs. Hallie Baumberger, Louise Nahm, Virginia Dent, Mary Francis Ford, Doris Daniels, Claire Bryant, and Martha Gardner, all contributed to the success of this moving drama, playing with beautiful restraint and sympathy.

Dr. Earle Moore, who humbly, in gentle poetry depicted the lapse of 18 years time, won anew his many friends and admirers.

Miss Olga Randolph was unique in her interpretation of the embittered Vicar, often moving the audience to sympathetic chuckles in the midst of all the quiet, beauty, and resignation . . . and in the final scene, with hardly a dry eye in the house, she brought a last tearful chortle, proving that her frosty exterior covered the usual heart of gold.

Mrs. Philip Binzel, producing director for the Guild, has worked tirelessly and unceasingly to bring this play to Bowling Green, and can rest assured that this, the twelfth production of the Guild, is the finest ever offered, and is a fitting close to the 1938 season of the Player's Guild.

Misses Rose Cantess and Essie Rife of Williamson, W. Va., are guests this week of Miss Cantess' sister, Miss Esma Cantess, a student at the Business University.

ALVATON SCHOOL BUILDING PLANS APPROVED HERE

Structure Okehed By Local Offices Of WPA

Plans for a proposed new gymnasium and auditorium at the Alvaton school have been approved by the local WPA office and the district office at Madisonville, it was announced today.

Harvey L. Settle, local architect who prepared plans for the new structure, stated that building will cost approximately $20,000 and will be built of native rubble stone. The outside dimensions of the building will be 60 by 90 feet. In addition to the regulation basketball court, the main structure will contain a 30 foot stage with dressing rooms on each side. Provisions have been made in the plans for a balcony to be added at some future time to accommodate additional spectators.

Bids were received at Mr. Settle's office today and the contract awarded for steel on the new WPA Hadley gymnasium now under construction.

With the acceptance and completion of the Alvaton project, every high school in Warren county will have gymnasium facilities.

Edwin Roberts, an accountant at the Helm hotel, addressed members of the Beta Pi Accounting fraternity at their last meeting.

BEAN SOUP OF B. U.

By Leonard T. Bean

By Leonard T. Bean

He's rather tough at times, but he is a good teacher and a fine fellow. At least, that is the general impression of students concerning J. C. Holland, capable higher accounting professor at the Bowling Green College of Commerce.

The fact that Mr. Holland knows his accounting is not to go unmentioned, because he has proven that he knows the answers as he earned his Certified Public Accountant's certificate in May, 1932, passing the American Institute examination in Nashville.

of the accounting mentor with sufficient tools necessary for working out a passing grade in the C. P. A. examination which is the dream of every accounting enthusiast.

Born and reared in nearby Franklin, Mr. Holland obtained his grammar school and high school education in that little mule-trading town. Like many other young persons bent upon doing big things, the Franklin youth made tracks toward the college of commerce where he signed for the accounting course. He graduated from the college of commerce in 1929.

Yet sufficiently well equipped to soar to the top in the accounting field as the result of holding a C. P. A. certificate, Mr. Holland determined to get more education and elected to study at Northwestern. Recognized as a conscientious, hard working scholar who carried on his shoulders a cracking good head, the northern institution of higher learning gave Mr. Holland a fellowship which was received gratefully in lieu of an accompanying honorary factor in addition to a host of others. A year of specialized study in cost account and the B. U. professor received his M. B. A. degree in business administration.

Mr. Holland has taken a crack at public accounting work as well as the school teaching game, and can do either so efficiently that he won't have to audit the books of the family budget when he takes a notion to order up a big juicy sirloin steak in some swanky eating place. Upon completion of his course in 1929 at the local institution, he trekked down to Greenville, Miss., and did accounting work for the International Vegetable Oil Co. Some time afterward the aroma of the Kentucky Blue Grass began calling him back and he accepted a position in the accounting department of the local light and power company.

One move, and that one the acceptance of a teaching post in the South Bend, Indiana, College of Commerce, possibly induced Mr.

Holland to become a bona fide accounting professor, because he soon left there to enter Northwestern from whence he came to the college of commerce here in September, 1933, where he has been every since.

He was honored with a membership to the exclusive National Association of Cost Accountants, belonging to the Louisville chapter which meets in the Kentucky metropolis monthly.

Mr. Holland is married to the former Miss Callie Baldwin of Greenville, Miss., who also formerly attended the business university. The Hollands reside at 1334 State street.

S. M. Woolsey, secretarial science and accounting instructor in the college of commerce, was passing around the cigars a few days ago. Yep, you've guessed it. He has a big baby boy. He's a junior, too, and has been tagged as Samuel Mitchell Woolsey Jr.

The girls at B. U. this week seemed a bit envious of the institution's president, Dr. J. L. Harman, who breezed in several days ago sporting a mid-summer sun tan brought about by a few weeks' stay in Florida.

Approaching the speaker's platform at the beginning of chapel exercises Wednesday morning, the B. U. chief was given an ovation that would tickle the spine of a national executive. In relating experiences enjoyed during his southern visit, pathetic looks of envy adorned the faces of the sweet young feminine listeners, who, while staring at the remarkable coat of "vitamin D" which capped the noble bald head of the highly respected school chief, were thinking all the while how nice it would be to have such a coat of tan on their legs, arms and shoulders at the start of the fast-approaching beach season.

NEW WORDS ADDED TO DICTIONARY BEING COMPILED BY PAIR

CHICAGO, March 30—You can no longer be accused of using slang when you peel off a $100 bill from that fat roll and say: "Here, cabbage head, is a C note."

C note and cabbage head were two expressions which today had found their way into the American English dictionary, being compiled at the University of Chicago by Sir William Craigie, co-editor of the Oxford English dictionary, and Prof. James R. Hulbert.

They said research disclosed the expression C note, derived from the Roman numeral C—100—had been popular in the United States since 1845.

The dictionary's fourth section, to be issued this spring, included these expressions:

In cahoots (in league with).
Take the cake (take the prize).
Cash in one's checks (to die).
On the carpet (to undergo a scolding).
To carry on (behave uproariously).
Cabbage head (a stupid person).

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gatliff of Middlesboro spent the week-end here with their son, Roy Gatliff, Bowling Green Business University student residing on Thirteenth street.

Large Hornet's Nest

One of the largest hornet's nests in Bowling Green may be seen in the Kentucky Library. It was presented to the library by Robert Rodes, president of the Citizens National bank. The hornet's nest is 26 inches long and approximately 16 inches in diameter. Considering its known age, the nest is remarkably well preserved. Another hornet's nest also larger than the average hangs in the laboratory equipment room in Ogden Hall.

Civil War Songs

Among the prized collections in the Kentucky Library is a group of bound volumes of songs composed during the Civil War. Within the volumes are many songs composed by men who later became famous for their compositions.

Demonstrating New Life Preserver

Olive McCormick, above, demonstrates, under the auspices of the Red Cross in Los Angeles, how to operate a new life-saving device designed by Clarence V. McGuire of Grosse Point, Mich. The invention is a small rubber sac weighing six ounces. The bag is inflated merely by squeezing the larger end. The pressure and heat thus generated act on chemicals to instantly release buoyant gases. Top, how the sac looks before inflated. Middle, the sac has been squeezed, and the gases have started to do their work. Bottom, fully inflated, the rubber sac keeps Miss McCormick afloat, and according to its inventor, can serve its purpose for as long as 16 hours.

Battleship Sails Along To Victory

Whipped home by a matter of inches, hard-fighting Battleship, above, diminutive 11-year-old son of Man O' War, sailed across the finish line in the Grand National at Aintree to become the first American-bred and American-owned horse to win the English turf classic. A judges' decision was necessary to decide the neck-and-neck finish, with the winner, booted along by Jockey Bruce Hobbs, outspeeding Irish-bred Royal Danieli in the last 16th of the straightaway. Battleship is owned by Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott.

Candidates For College High Grid Machine Small

Transforming midgets into football players is Professor Arnold Winkenhof's line at College HI, and from all appearances his assignment for 1938 looms as the toughest he has run into since hanging his hat at the local school about five years ago, for cavorting among his 26 spring grid candidates are but six that have earned previous letters.

The half dozen lettermen, all entering this class last year, earned their stripe at line positions, thus making the Cardinal coach's job even tougher than it might appear at first sight.

Always light, the Cardinal representatives for 1938 appear to be even smaller than past squads, and unless Coach Winkenhof invents some kind of pills for the boys during the summer, the stiff autumn breezes may blow the boys off the field. Regardless of size, one thing Cardinal fans can be assured of is that the air will be filled with footballs as is Winky's custom.

Closing their third week of spring work under the direction of Winkenhof and H. T. Cooper, Western end last season who is lending his assistance, the Cards are confronted with about three more weeks of practice before the uniforms will be laid aside to await the reopening of school next fall.

With no backfield lettermen available Coach Winkenhof has shifted three linemen to the secondary group—Captain Raymond Phillips, Alternate Captain James Durham and Russell Phillips. Ohter backfield candidates include Ford Criswell, a southpaw who saw a little service last season, Richard Neff, the Ralph Wareham, James Parrish and Saturday night at a local theatre.

David Rigsby.

The spring classification of line-men (all will probably get a trial at every position before the season is over next fall) follows: Ends—Robert Follis, a letterman, Paul Garrett Jr., William Terry (not the Western football coach or manager of the Giants), Bill Callas, Bobby Pearce and Tommy Hinton; tackles—Maurice Rountree, Harvey Settle (largest man on the squad—in fact the only large one), Robert Tucker, James Kimbrel, Tom Uhl, and (Field Marshal) McChesney; guards—Jewell Jackson, Carleton Peay (another letterman), Ralph Lane and Ray Cossey; and centers—Cleon McCluskey (letterman) and Maurice McKenzie.

Four other candidates, swelling the total to 30, are expected out next week. The expected additions are David Gilmore, Doug Owen, Charles Morgan and Bob Uhl.

Approximately twenty-five Business University students attended the Tri-State Club theatre party during the week-end.

Beauty—In Reflected Glory

Only 12, She's Typical Co-ed

Sue Allyn Stripling, above, is only 12 years old—yet she's a college freshman. Furthermore she's a typical co-ed, prominent in campus activities and is making the highest grades in her class at Trinity University, Waxahachie, Tex. Besides her obvious attractions, young Miss Stripling is a talented dancer, actress, golfer and—would you believe it—a ventriloquist.

Miss Elizabeth Gillette, student at the Business University, will visit her parents at Asheville, N. C., during the week-end.

Exam Cramming Costly As Pupils Lose 7,214 Pounds

Students of Western Kentucky State Teachers paid for their cramming in the last examinations with a loss of 7,214 pounds in weight. It is estimated by the Bureau of Educational Surveys, New York City.

The Bureau arrived at the figure by multiplying an average of two pounds weight loss reported by a representative group by 90 percent of Western Kentucky State Teachers students who engage in intensive study before and during examination periods.

According to the Bureau, professors and textbooks are, as much to blame for cramming as the students themselves. Too often the instructor does not provide his class with a sufficiently clear overview of the entire course, or does not review the course in outline form from Broken hearts are frequent these days—Charlotte Davis has only eyes for Johnie Perkins.

There seems to be a battle on with this Loy Witt-lick-er once more. We see that he has changed to a blond this time who seems to be Mildred Vance. Mildred passes the other day and she sees Loy in front of Loy's old girl's house with this girl and he is posing with her to take a picture. Loy then learns that she was on her porch the other day talking with some boy that Loy sees her walking around with most of the time and he wants to get her told about this matter but learns that she knows about him taking the picture so Loy gets checked once, or should I say once more?

Well maybe this rumor about Gene Hughes and some boys will time to time, with the result that the student becomes hopelessly involved in a mass of facts and ideas, and resorts to cramming as a final, desperate measure. Sometimes the instructor is to blame for not couching lectures in terms understandable to the average student, and frequently the textbook lacks continuity and organization, or presents the course in too ponderous and technical a manner for the average student's comprehension. This is particularly true of the 52 per cent of all students who, according to Dr. John Black Johnson, retired dean of the University of Minnesota College of Science, Literature and the Arts, can never become "successful students." Students in this group would never pass at all but for the use of college outlines or other supplementary aids to study.

be over now that she has made that final step. Gene has been going with a drug store cowboy and he heard things about her and made a check up. He must have found that things were O.K. as we see that not only did he start back with her again but this time he married her.

Hobart Smith, Rollie Moore, Hazel, Hazel's roommate, and Putnan went on a party the other night which ended up in Hobart's name changing to "Beer Fly." Some name I think. I might add that Smith and this Putnan girl have been doing right well and better than most people think.

Dr. M. C. Ford, head of the Ogden department of science at Western Teachers College, gave an address on "Studies on Taxation," at the weekly noon meeting of the Kiwanis club last week at the Helm hotel.

The major portion of Dr. Ford's address was taken up in illustrating that the expanding program of social service by the government necessarily meant expanding the program of taxation. Diddle Lauded In Basketball Banquet Talk

Speaker Reviews
Topper Record
Since 1922

Ward C. Sumpter, local merchant, in delivering the principal address at the Western basketball banquet Friday night at the Helm hotel, traced the basketball history of Coach Ed Diddle from 1922, when he made his first appearance here as a coach, through the present season, which saw the Western team enjoying one of its most successful seasons in winning both the KIAC and SIAA championships.

Dr. Lee F. Jones, head of the Western education department, served as toastmaster at the banquet, and first introduced Freshman Coach Edgar Stansbury, who called upon Harvey Liggett, freshman basketball manager, to introduce members of the squad. Later Coach Stansbury announced the 12 net performers to be awarded numbers for participation during the season.

Coach Diddle, in making a brief talk, addressed his remarks chiefly to the six senior members of the basketball squad. He later introduced members of the team, and others in the audience.

Retiring Captain William (Red) McCrocklin and Western President Paul L. Garrett were also called upon for short talks.

The principal speaker of the evening praised Mr. Diddle as a basketball coach, pointing to his 16-year record at Western, where he started in 1923 by winning the mythical girls' state title, and to his unbroken string of seven wins in the KIAC since 1932.

Mr. Sumpter concluded by stating that the proportion of wins and losses would not bear as heavily on the final records as would the coach's "splendid" influence on the hundreds of young people he has taught since coming to Western.

Members of the varsity squad named for letters were Captain McCrocklin, Alternate Captain Ralph Dudgeon, Claude Rayburn, H. T. Cooper, and John McCreary, all seniors; Harry Saddler, John Hackett, Hardin Cherry, and Wilson Stemm, juniors; and Loftin Green, Jed Walters, John Ramsey and Billy Robinson, sophomores.

Recommended for freshman numbers were Harry Caines, Bert Borone, Alec Downing, Paul Gruesser, Kendrick Fuiks, Lyndon Powell, John Primrose, Robert Reid, Charlie Taylor, Carlyle Towery, William Price and James Dew.

GEOLOGY STUDENTS AT U. OF K. PLAN 3,200 MILE TRIP

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 30 —A geology field trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota, in which more than 3,200 miles will be covered in a period of three weeks, has been planned for May 29 to June 19 by Dr. A. C. McFarlan, head of the department of geology at the University of Kentucky, for major students in the department who are required to have field work in regional geology before obtaining their degrees.

Approximately 15 students are expected to make the trip, accompanied by Dr. McFarlan and David M. Young, curator of the U. K. museum of geology.

The party will leave Lexington May 29, traveling by department truck and camping out. The party will stop en route in Iowa, and will spend a short time there on glacial geology and on Devonian and Pennsylvania stratigraphy and paleontology.

Girls Give Reasons For Attending College

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 30 —University of Tennessee coeds gave various reasons today for attending college, some admitting they were seeking a husband.

Elizabeth Cochran, pretty brunette from Birmingham, Ala., said she had come for knowledge, adding:

"Every girl in college is there to become better fitted for something, although she naturally expects to have a good time too."

Harriet Pardue, Nashville, Tenn., said it was natural of girls to "have a vague idea of marrying some day, but that's not the reason they go to universities or colleges. If they were really looking for a fertile husband-hunting ground, they'd pick easier fields."

Sue Stanton, Philadelphia, Pa., declared: "They all go to college either to learn how to make money or to marry money."

Those hunting mates declined use of their names.

ed for the season opener here April 11, while another game with T. P. I. is also being considered. Two tilts are also to be played with Austin Peay Normal of Clarksville, Tenn., as soon as dates can be settled.

Coach Ed Diddle will be faced with the loss of about five regulars from last year's nine, along with four of the five hurlers used during the season.

Only hurler remaining in the Hill-topper fold from last season is Ditz Glover, junior performer from Princeton. Ward, chubby hurler from Columbia who saw considerable service last season is not enrolled in school, while Tommy Hendrix, another 1937 flinger has withdrawn from school. Carl Lamar, a southpaw, was lost through graduation, and Niles Newton has entered the pro ranks via Indianapolis.

Red Garrison and Rollie Moore, last year's keystone combination, will be missed, as will outfielders John Jonakin and C. B. Basham, and catcher Vick Smith.

Woodrow Read, Butler county initial sacker, has returned for the spring wars, and Eck Branham, a left handed veteran will also be out for the first sack. Henry Cooper will more than likely return to his spot at the hot corner.

George Bibich and Alton Mitchell, outfield veterans, are back and both will probably see starting service, thus leaving Coach Diddle with worries over the pitching staff, catching, second base, short stop, and a starting outfielder.

The incomplete schedule follows:

- April 11—Northern Illinois Teachers, here (tentative).
- April 19—U. of Louisville, here.
- April 22—Vanderbilt, Nashville.
- April 23—Vanderbilt, Nashville.
